FELLOW P.O.W. WRITES SGT. FRED EVANS' HOME

Deputy-Reeve and Mrs. Arthur D. Evans have had an interesting letter from a fellow prisoner of war of their son, Fred. The writer is a corporal in the Royal Australian Air Force. The letter was dated Sept. 25, and reads in part: "Fred is quite well, keeping in the best of spirits. He is playing a fair amount of baseball and has coached a team I play with. We are all Australians and were strangers to the game until Fred taught us all about it. I think we justified his coaching."

"I expect you would like to know a bit about me. Well, I come from Melbourne (wouldn't I like to be there now) and I have seen five years of service. Fred has told me a lot about you and Mr. Evans and his brother (Harold, overseas) whom he hears from quite often and actually, you do not seem total strangers to me. I would like to meet you all."

"Among us here are quite a number of chaps from Canada and they are all very popular and well liked by everyone. Speaking for myself, I have yet to meet finer men, and this is the life in which to judge a man. Fred is the pick of them all as he is a gentleman in the true sense of the word."

Mrs. Evans wrote the Australian at her son's request, never expecting a reply as letter forms are very scarce.

Prepare For Future Now Is Advice Of W.P.T.B. Spokesman

"It would be an empty success to defeat Germany and then lose the battle on inflation," J. P. Regan, of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, told the Lions club at their Monday night meeting in St. Paul's church.

"If businessmen think and plan now for the future, we will tide over the inflationary period."

It was firemen's night at the Lions club. Frank Bowser introduced members of the Newmarket fire brigade who were present as guests of the members.

Ernest McCaffrey and Aubrey Patterson, both recently home from service, sat at the head table as did Fire Chief Jos. Brammer.

"When Hitler planned his campaign, he was counting a great deal on the 'softness' of the democracies," said Mr. Regan. "Canada has shown she was not soft. She has the greatest production per capita and still is better fed and clothed than any of the United Nations."

"Looking back at the beginning of the war, the outlook seemed dark. Production goals seemed impossible. Consumer production was out. It was a problem of survival. But the story has been that the business man has prospered. There have been some casualties, but generally, there has been prosperity."

"The W.P.T.B. would never have succeeded without the whole-hearted support of the Canadian people. The board took the line that if the Canadian people knew the truth, they would co-operate. This was not always possible as in the case of a shortage of onions some months ago. The board saw the shortage coming and arranged for shipments from Egypt but at the last moment, the boats were commandeered for the Sicily invasion. The board was criticized for permitting the shortage but could say nothing on its own behalf for fear of giving away the secret of the invasion.

"Price control has cost each person in Canada about ten cents a month to maintain, or $16,000,000 yearly. A recent poll showed that 94 percent of the people approved of the policies of the board.

"As reconversion nears, there is the danger of war weariness to contend with. Controls will only be lifted as the danger of the inflationary period is lessened. After the last war, there were more business failures than at any other time. The board is planning for reconversion but its success is still dependent on the will of the Canadian people.

"Businessmen are urged to review their businesses and weigh the factors which made them successful. Be ready to apply those factors as the controls are lifted. We cannot revert to the way things were before the war. If each businessman is ready to apply those checks and balances that the board has applied, there should be no danger in converting to peace time business."

Seventy-five children from the Orange orphanage were entertained at the Strand theatre on the Saturday before Christmas. Lion Morley McPhee was congratulated for the part he played in making this entertainment available. The children were given candies and fruit and pencil pouches supplied by Dix-on Pencil Co. A total of 43 Christmas baskets were distributed to families by the club. In the families, there were a total of 116 children who benefited through this work.

Man, 82, 'Shoes Through Drifts To Son's Farm

It took 82-year-old Wm. E. Eastman from 5:30 p.m. to 10:40 p.m. to snowshoe from Stark's store in Keswick to the farm of his son, W. F. Eastman, last Thursday, in sub-zero weather with wind and deep snow to contend with, but he made it with no other harm than a frost-nipped ear.

Mr. Eastman is up for a visit to his son and daughter-in-law. He got off the bus at Keswick last Thursday only to find that the roads were plugged with drifts and impassable. His son telephoned to Mr. Stark's store to tell him this and that he would have to go a long way around in order to reach him. But Mr. Eastman said that he would borrow a pair of snowshoes and walk the distance, in the neighborhood of three miles.

His son was doubtful and after trying to get through, telephoned Stark's again only to find that Mr. Eastman had borrowed a pair of snowshoes and had started off on his own. His son then improvised a pair of snowshoes and set out to meet him. He picked up his father's tracks near Russell Wilkinsons' farm and followed them to the farm house where he found his father having dinner with the Wilkinsons.

After dinner, they started out again, but near Mr. Wrightman's farm, their flashlight began to dim so they stopped at Wrightman's where they borrowed two battery cells. They stopped again at Ralph Folkard's farm to get warm and when they started out again, Mr. Folkard went with them to break a trail. They reached the Eastman farm at 10:40 p.m.

Mr. Eastman was tired but otherwise alright. In the morning, however, he found that his left ear was swollen from the cold. His son was formerly a blacksmith at Keswick.

YOUNG SKATERS GET FREE ICE

The children of the public and separate schools enjoyed their first afternoon of free ice at Newmarket Memorial Arena last Friday. The children came down to the arena in grades with their teachers. Also present were a few parents.

Les. Beazer, manager of the arena, said that he hoped more parents would come down to the arena Friday afternoon to help in the instructing of children. "Five or six parents with their skates would do a lot towards helping the children," Mr. Beazer said. Teachers are present on skates but there are not enough of them."

Mr. Beazer had a wooden frame built for beginners. The child could get in a frame and use the sides to support him as he pushed the contraption around the ice. "Something along the lines of learning to skate with a kitchen chair," he said.

Those parents who were present seemed to enjoy themselves. One enthusiast stated that she thought "it was the best thing that ever happened to Newmarket."

The Friday afternoon schedule is: grades one and two, 1 p.m. to 2 p.m.; grades three and four, 2 p.m. to 3 p.m.; grades five and six, 3 p.m. to 4 p.m.; grades seven and eight, 4 p.m. to 5 p.m.

NO. 23 HAS REVENGE ON H.M.C.S. YORK, 6-3

By BERNIE GANTNER

The grand opening of the Newmarket army home season was staged on Jan. 4 at the local ice palace and from results achieved, it was a howling success from start to finish. The No. 23 hockey contingent, in their local debut, out-fought and outlasted the navy lads from H.M.C.S. York, Toronto, to gain revenge for the league opening setback at the hands of the tars two weeks before. The final score was 6-3 for the blue and gold hockeyists and on the night's play were three goals better than their opponents.

The big stumbling block for the navy was agile Bing Caswell, who turned in a three-star effort in the Newmarket nets. Caswell was given plenty of support by a defense trio of Tommy Jamieson, Dutch Wheeler and Bill Doyle, who were a tower of strength at the rear-guard position.

The tars were slightly handicapped due to the smaller ice surface. What troubled the sailors more than anything else, however, was the all-round aggressiveness of the whole army team. The Newmarket sextet are now perched on the top rung of the Inter-service group, sharing that spot with the sailors.

The game was marked by numerous penalties, 18 minor ones being tacked on by the officials. Whistle tooting was common, play being stopped nearly every four or five seconds. The game started at 8:30 and finished at 11:30—nearly three hours.

After the opening face-off, the sailors lost little time in forging ahead. Billion galloped down the centre and shot from just inside the Newmarket blueline. The rubber bounced and skidded along the ice and bounced crazily over Bing Caswell's stick to dribble over the line for a navy score. This occurred in a little more than a minute of play. Bing Giddolin was serving a two-minute stretch at this particular moment.

With this opening tally, the game began to develop into a slam-bang affair. Jamieson and Olinaki were sent off for roughing, followed by McCumb a few minutes later, for what is termed slashing. Navy went two up at the 11-minute mark when Jerry Davey banged in the first of his two goals. Bobby Schurr started the play and in a scuffle around the army goal, Schurr saved on Schurr's attempt, but lost the rebound. Davey having no trouble in sinking it.

At this stage, Doc Avision tripped Schurr but the sailors had little chance to take advantage of the extra man for Floyd Curry of the navy was the villain on another goal. (Page 8, Col. 4)

Sgt. H. Heather Dies, Was Camp 'Original'

The following statement was released by the commanding officer of No. 23 B.T.C., Col. N. M. Young:

It is with extreme regret that we announce the passing of Sgt. Harry George Heather at Newmarket on Jan. 8.

Born in Southampton, England, in 1892, Sgt. Heather served with distinction during the present war and the war of 1914-1918. Enlisting in November, 1915, he served as a signaller in the 3rd Bat., Toronto regiment, until discharged in September, 1920. On Aug. 30, 1918, he was wounded in action. Joining the N.P.A.M. in 1927 he continued to serve until 1940, when he was called to active service. With the opening of No. 23 B.T.C. he was posted to Newmarket as a private, rising to the rank of sergeant and remaining on the staff of this centre until his death. On June 7, 1941, he was awarded the Canadian Efficiency Medal and clasp.

Keenly interested in boys' work, Sgt. Heather took an active part in Scout and Cub work. Since coming to Newmarket, he spent part of his leisure time instructing Scouts in signalling and map using.

Left to mourn his loss are his widow and family of six. Two sons are on active service with the R.C.A.F. A third son, in the Merchant Marine, was torpedoed and drowned at sea in 1941. His oldest daughter is in the C.W.A.C. and the three youngest children are at home in Toronto.

THOMS LEAVES BLACK HAWKS

After a 12-year hockey career, Bill Thoms has announced his retirement from professional hockey. The Newmarket-born lad was first signed up in pro hockey by Conny Smythe for the Toronto Maple Leafs in 1932.

Even while attending Alexander Muir school, Bill was a good athlete. It was in those days Bill began to take to hockey, playing with a group of boys on the canal or any patch of ice available. He started his long career of hockey in 1926-27 under the coaching of Fred Thompson, who had collected a club of home brews which reached the O.H.A. finals but were defeated by Owen Sound.

The next year saw the curly-headed kid playing under the watchful eye of Coach Bill Hancock. The next season found Bill with the crack West Toronto team, which swept aside all opposition in the east and Regina Pats, the cream of the west, to win the Memorial Cup. His next move was to Marlboro Seniors where he played two seasons before signing a pro contract. He spent part of 1932 with the Leafs farm team, the Syracuse Stars, for seasoning.

Bill played excellent hockey for the Leafs and carried the reputation of being one of the cleanest players in the N.H.L. and, while with the same club, was considered one of the clearest centre ice performers. Six years ago Bill was traded to Chicago Black Hawks where he has played until retiring. Last year Bill was seriously ill. This year he has decided to call it quits.

Dr. G. E. Case Replaces Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards; Projector Discussed

The final meeting of the year of the public school board and the first meeting of the new board were held on Tuesday night at the Alexander Muir school.

Dr. G. E. Case will replace Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards as chairman of the board for the coming year. Mrs. Edwards was in the chair for the first half of the meeting and with the arrival of the new member, Stephen Rose, the chairman of the new board was elected and took the chair. Mrs. Edwards thanked the board for their co-operation and said it had been a pleasure to be their chairman.

"I am very glad to have been on the board and feel that I have learned a lot from working with you," said Mrs. A. H. Woods on retiring from the board. "Education should teach children to live happily together. Boards so often destroy a child by placing too much in examination results. As a teacher I often felt that trustees didn't know anything about the psychological development of the child. I feel that as a trustee I have learned a lot about the development of education in the last 30 years."

It was decided that Rudy Renzius and vice-principals E. Denno and F. L. Hall form a committee to purchase duplicating machines for Stuart Scott and Alexander Muir schools. The board agreed at a previous meeting that this was necessary equipment for the schools. King George school already has one.

The board authorized Mrs. Woods and Mr. Renzius to select (Page 4, Col. 7)

The Newmarket high school board at a meeting Tuesday evening passed a motion that the board's statutory meeting be held on the second Monday in February, coincidental with the regular monthly meeting.

Chairman A. N. Belugin thanked the board for the co-operation throughout the year in dealing with the hurdles that arose in the business of the board. He said it had been a pleasure to work with the members of the high school board. At the conclusion of the meeting a vote of thanks, moved by W. J. Geer, for the constant and excellent direction received from the chairman, carried unanimously.

Mr. Belugin read a letter from the school inspector, T. O. W. Fowler, in which the inspector said he was very pleased with the number of students enrolled in grade 12 most encouraging. He said that the distribution of time the pupils spend in various classes of the commercial department was excellent and that a splendid relationship between pupils and teachers was in evidence.

Mr. Belugin reviewed the report of the convention last May of the Associated High School Boards of Ontario. Mr. Belugin said that 60 boards in the province were members, that he could see the advisability of the boards meeting together and making their voice heard. He recommended that a Newmarket representative attend the next convention.

Principal J. W. Lockhart suggested that the board consider purchasing a film projector for the high school.

The department of education is gathering a library of films of education, including science films, and I think a projector would be a valuable piece of equipment," he said.

Golden Manning said he agreed (Page 4, Col. 8)

By GEORGE HASKETT

At long last, after many a try, it has finally happened. The canal town Redmen, managed by Jimmy Walker and coached by Stan Smith, finally toppled the highly-rated and unbeaten Markham Greenshirts in the Newmarket ice pavilion. Perhaps it was the new name "Capitals" tacked on the Redmen that broke the spell that Markham has put on many a previous Newmarket junior entry. Anyway to make a long story short, the canal town kids broke the jinx to gain a clear-cut victory Monday evening by 6-4.

"Murph" Jelley started the Capitals on their road to victory early in the opener as he clicked on a pass from Earl Purdon and Bob "Lanky" Smith. "Lanky" furthered the cause shortly after as he flashed behind the Green-shirt's net, after receiving the disc from Don Dunham, and hooked the puck in the corner of the net. It was a smart piece of work. Markham replied later as Pillar broke in to beat Britton in the local game.

DOCTOR SPEAKS

Dr. S. J. Boyd came into the office Wednesday. This is what he said: "I was making my rounds outside the town. I saw two girls pulling a hundred-weight of coal on a hand-sleigh. I saw a girl without stockings, shivering beside the lone stove in the house. I have seen signs of want and hardship brought about by this cold spell. But nowhere have I seen neighbors lifting a helping hand to those in distress. What has happened to the spirit of neighborliness in this district?"

YOUNG GORDON

We are willing to bet our boots that Young Gordon will be top scorer of the N.H.L. in the early 1960's. Young Gordon is only a couple of years out of rompers but he handles his skates like a veteran. Before long, he will be reminding old timers of the Big Train at his best.

We didn't catch Young Gordon's last name. We asked him two or three times but he was breathless from skating and rather impatient with our attempts to interview him. Anyway, he was wearing a brown snow suit and helmet with a tan scarf wrapped about his throat.

We met Young Gordon Friday afternoon when the children of grades one and two, of the public and separate schools were enjoying their first hour of free ice at the Newmarket Memorial arena. The teachers were with the children and some parents lined the boards.

Our guess is that the owl that is supposed to be roosting in the girders over centre ice must have had his best laugh in years watching the children skating. Some of them were on skates for the first time. They would take three or four steps and then sprawl on their bellies like frogs. Others tried to crack the ice with that portion of their anatomy which only a few years ago was covered with diapers. But up or down, they were all trying and they were going places.

The opportunities that a municipal rink is providing these children more than justifies the cost to the town. The council and other citizens who labored to make the arena a town asset would have felt more than rewarded for their efforts could they have been in the rink Friday afternoon.

ACTION IS NEEDED

The merchandise on the back shelves doesn't sell but the merchandise on display, where the customer can see it, pick it up and pinch it for freshness if he wants, does sell.

The merchandise which is "on order" or "will be delivered soon" doesn't sell it next door that merchandise is on the counter or in the window ready for the customer to take home.

And surely, no one will argue that the high-priced merchandise will sell better than the lower-priced merchandise of the same quality.

Every merchant in Newmarket knows these facts and acts on them in one form or another to promote his business. Yet these truths are equally demonstrated on the Newmarket market and the market declines noticeably from week to week while the merchants on Main St. prosper. Why?

Because the merchants on Main St. watch their businesses, are alert to every opportunity to improve their business, use every means to induce customers to enter their shops, study their markets and their customers. No one does that for the Newmarket market. So the Newmarket market is headed for oblivion.

What is needed is a firm management, an organized means of handling produce, a campaign to publicize the market and a renovated market building. The market should be placed in the same category as any other business and treated as such. The remote control exercised by the council is achieving only one thing—failure.

We are not advocating a revival of the market for the sake of filling up space. The market is as much a part of a thriving community as its churches and schools are, its industries, its roads and homes. Newmarket was brought into existence through a market. The market sustained it through its early years; contributed growth and prosperity as the trading post became a village and then a town. And now, with Newmarket on the verge of still greater prosperity and growth, that influence which meant so much to it in the past, which could mean so much to it in the future, is permitted to lapse towards extinction. What shortsightedness.

Newmarket is on the main highway between Toronto and the cottage colonies on the south shore of Lake Simcoe. It is the largest shopping centre between the city and the lake. If Newmarket had a thriving market, that would be more reasonable than for the holidayer to stop at Newmarket to purchase his supplies rather than to buy in the city. He would be sure of fresh produce at bottom prices. He would be out of the dust and the heat of city stores in the summer. He would avoid city shopping crowds.

And, when he did stop at Newmarket, he would spend money not only on the market, but in every shop on Main St.

Not is there any need to rely entirely on summer traffic for market customers. Newmarket is the logical shopping centre for most of north York. A thriving market would bring business to the town as no other enterprise could. Every one would profit by it, the Main St. merchants, the farmers with produce to sell, the customers by the quality and price of their purchases.

At the present time, any hope of reviving the market is obliterated by the lack of civic interest and council leadership.

The council has heard the mayor urge an effort towards renovating the market in the past and ignored him. Once the council prohibited buyers from the market until individual customers had a chance. Was that prohibition ever enforced? The merchants acknowledge the faults of the way the market is operated, admit the advantages of a thriving market, then shrug their shoulders.

The market is dying. Action is needed. Nothing is being done. How long must it be before something is done?

FORUMS ON EDUCATION

The National Farm Radio Forum has begun the new year with a series of discussions grouped around the central topic of "Fitting Young People for Rural Living." The first meeting of the forums was last Monday night and the subject was "What the Schools Do for Young People." Elsewhere in this issue is a report of the meeting of the Newmarket East Farm Radio Forum and the conclusions reached by the participants of the forum. Next Monday, the subject will be "Making Rural Schools Effective."

In connection with the last meeting of the forum, it is interesting to note the emphasis that the forum report puts on the need for compulsory agricultural courses in the schools. In the Farm Forum Guide, a small journal published by the National Farm Radio Forum, there is a quotation from the book, The Education We Pay For, by L. A. DeWolfe, which reads in part:

"The following is a true report of a high school graduate whom we know: He studied chemistry but knew nothing of Bordeaux Mixture, lime sulfur or Paris green. He studied botany but knew not even the common weeds. He studied hygiene but did not know when he had a well-balanced meal. He studied physics but knew nothing of soil capillarity. He studied arithmetic but could not measure a piece of land. He studied entomology and therefore knew nothing of the potato stalk borer. He knew nothing of minerals. He had never heard of conservation of natural resources."

WHEN THE BOYS RETURN

Newmarket has or had a rehabilitation committee. If it is still existent, when did it meet last? How active is it? What has it done in preparation for the post-war period? What is it ready to do now? If the committee is non-existent now, why?

Some thought on these matters by Newmarket citizens would not be amiss. The boys are coming home now. What is the town doing about it?

The government is ready to pay service gratuities and pensions, provide medical care and grants for completing educations interrupted by war. But the government certainly can't make a returned man feel at home. That is our job. The veterans are sending cigarettes overseas. Other organizations are regularly providing parcels and comforts. What about the fighting man who has returned? What is being done for him?

A pass to the arena, a welcome home banquet, however creditable are only a small down payment on the total debt owing him. We have more instalments yet to pay. How do we propose to do it?

In a letter which was printed on the front page of last week's Era and Express, Sgt. Earlby Thompson writes:

"The boys as well as fighting a war are also thinking and talking a great deal about the new government rehabilitation plan that has been released recently. They are wondering what their country, Canada, has really been preparing for their future as the men and women who will be the backbone of Canada. They ask daily, what is the government going to do for us? Is it going to live up to its plans? Are we going to find jobs? Or are we going to be left to scratch for ourselves?"

In the last lines of the quotation is a clue to how the debt can be further discharged. "Are we going to find jobs? Or are we going to be left to scratch for ourselves?" We believe Newmarket can supply that answer in advance by taking steps to organize its own servicemen's employment bureau.

We suggest that each soldier be canvassed, by means of a questionnaire, on what his post-war plans are. What does he intend to do? Go back to his old job? Try something new? And so on. When the answers are in, the town in its turn could be canvassed for the number and type of jobs that will be available after the war and the results of the two polls combined and sent to each employer and each serviceman.

For example, Jim Jones, overseas four years, wants to open up a blacksmith shop when he returns. He could be sent complete information on the possibilities of a blacksmith shop in Newmarket. Or take Bill Smith who wants to enter a shop as a clerk with the idea of learning the business and entering into partnership. What kind of opening is there for Bill in Newmarket when he returns?

A practical interest of this sort, in our opinion, would do more to ease a soldier's mind about his return than anything else the town could do. It is not original; it has been tried with success in other towns. Why couldn't it be done here?

In Passing

Every now and then, an item will appear in the press in which an editor hands it out to critics. The Guelph Mercury does it humorously in the following item: Most any man can be an editor. All the editor has to do is sit at a desk six days a week, four weeks a month and twelve months a year and edit such stuff as—"Mrs. Jones of Summer Creek let a can opener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry." "Joe Doe climbed on the roof of his house last week, looking for a leak, and fell, landing on his back porch." "While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social last Saturday night a savage dog attacked and bit Miss Wise on the public square." "Mr. Black, while harnessing a horse last Monday, was kicked just south of his silo." (Warton Echo.)

Just occasionally, we see a woman who looks as though she too wonders why she ever bought the hat.—Memphis Appeal.

PENSION FACTS

By RICHARD HALE
(Chief Pensions Officer, Headquarters, Canadian Legion)

The question of pensions for men of the armed forces who are wounded or injured, become sick and disabled, is one of the most discussed in Canada today. At the same time there is probably no other problem relating to men of the forces that is less understood.

In the first place the amounts of pensions payable are generally grossly exaggerated in the average mind. Whenever a pension is mentioned the uninitiated visualizes some sum ranging between $40 and $150 per month. While it is true that pensions do run as high as $150 in exceptional cases where the man is totally disabled, it is equally true that the majority of pensionable disabilities are much smaller. Disability pensions are fixed in accordance with the degree of disability deemed to exist as related to the ordinary labor market.

While pension rates are not made public by the Pension Commission, the Canadian Legion has, through thousands of cases handled, been able to arrive at pretty definite conclusions in regard to specific types of wounds or injuries.

Here are some of the percentages of pension generally allowed. A married man with no children getting a 100 percent disability pension receives $100 per month. For the first dependent child he receives an additional $15 per month, $12 for the second child and $10 for each additional child with no maximum amount. A single man on 100 percent pension gets $75 per month; the loss of a thumb is 20 percent; loss of index finger 10 percent; loss of middle finger 5 percent; loss of fourth finger 5 percent; loss of little finger 3 percent; loss of hand or foot 50 percent, the 50 percent being applied up to just below the elbow on the knee; if the amputation is above the knee it is 60 percent; above the elbow 60 percent; middle of the arm 70 percent; middle of the leg 70 percent, and above that 80 percent; at the shoulder 80 percent; loss of an eye 40 percent, if a glass eye has to be worn; 30 percent if the natural eye remains in the socket; stiff knee joint, absolutely stiff, can't be bent, 20 percent; stiff ankle 20 percent; stiff elbow 20 percent.

A good deal of confusion exists in the public mind as to who is and who is not entitled to pension, as a right, for a condition that arose while the veteran was on active service. One group is all right. The men and women who have seen overseas service are entitled to pension right because they are protected by what has come to be known as the insurance principle. An insurance principle means simply this: When a citizen of Canada undertakes military duty in the armed forces, he or she is protected against disability or death from any cause except misconduct.

At the beginning of the war, the government announced that men who enlisted would be given the same benefits under the Pension Act as applied at the conclusion of the last war. The insurance principle was part of the act and therefore everyone who joined the service automatically was protected by this principle.

This was the case until May 20, 1940, when the government passed an order-in-council which abolished the insurance principle for men and women with service in Canada only. In its place, the government said that pensions would be payable to the "Canada only" group as of right only when the disability or death arose out of, or was directly connected with, military service.

A provision was made for the payment of compassionate pensions when the veteran was seriously disabled or, if he died during service, to his dependents when there were in necessary circumstances and held ineligible under these very restrictive regulations.

The Legion has found by experience that it is almost impossible to prove that any ordinary disease arose out of service or that death due to disease could be directly connected with service when that disease was in Canada only. In addition, injuries causing disabilities or deaths which were not incurred while performing actual military duty are rarely compensated by pension as a matter of right when the service is in Canada only.

One of the things that pensioners of this war are going to have to learn is that pensions are unobtainable as far as the business world is concerned. No pension can be assigned, assigned, attached, antedated, commuted or given as security.

The reason for this is very obvious. The state pays a pension for disability and wants to make sure that the pensioner gets full value for the pension. However, it will be a surprise to a great many veterans already discharged to know that this rule applies to war service gratuity. A great number of men and women plan to use this money in the acquisition of a home, or some similar undertaking and, knowing that the money is there, have gone ahead with plans that involve the gratuity they know they will get.

Holders of contracts and other business men are sometimes ignorant of the "no assignment" rule and complete a deal. This deal in itself doesn't come into the agreement is taken to the bank or loan company, whose officials are well aware of all the provisions. Well, of course, will mean a certain amount of hardship and may sometimes involve the loss of money to the veterans concerned.

The rehabilitation credit, too, comes under this ruling although the situation is a little different inasmuch as it must be used for certain specific purposes.

However, it still can't be given as security because the Department of Veterans Affairs will have a ruling on the validity of the purpose for which it is to be used. Application forms for the credit will be available shortly and are expected to furnish more details than are at present available.

A considerable difference exists in the rates of pensions for menbers of the women's divisions and men in the active forces. Provision is made for the payment of pensions for disabilities resulting from injuries or disease and for dependents in case of death under the same conditions as contained in the Pension Act for the men. There is also provision for pensions for dependent parents or children.

The difference in rate, however, is very marked. In the case of a lieutenant, and all the ranks below that, only $720 a year is payable as against $900 a year awarded to men. In ranks above that of lieutenant the rate is proportionately lower also.

The government argues that the rates of pay are less because the services are decreased accordingly.

Since the order-in-council was passed giving authority for pensions to the women's services, the rates of pay have been raised and while they are still not equal to the rate received by a man, it would seem that some increase in the pension rate is indicated.

One lesson that thousands of veterans of the last war learned was that, without a proper record of medical treatment during the period following discharge, proving a pension claim was very difficult and sometimes next to impossible.

Doctors, following the last war, often treated ex-soldiers free of charge and, as a result, kept no record of the treatment. While such doctors were motivated by a desire to be helpful, it is doubtful if they could have done anything more harmful to the case of the veteran.

For example, it is quite possible that following his discharge, particularly if it was a small town, a veteran will seek medical advice from the local physician rather than travel some distance to a regular veterans' doctor. In time the disease which is the reason for his visit to the local doctor may grow into a permanent disabling condition or may even result in death. If there has been no record kept of that original visit with complete medical information there is often almost nothing to support the veteran's word of his widow's that his military service was responsible. It means a lot of work to obtain such information and evidence and more work, of course, means delay.

The regulations of the Department of Veterans Affairs provide for free treatment and hospitalization where necessary for all who have served in this present war for over a year after discharge from overseas service. The rates of this war should, therefore, be very low and they need treatment and thus create a definite record of their condition which may well prove invaluable later in the event a claim to disability pension is made.

Every man or woman who is discharged from the forces through medical unfitness has three chances to prove a claim for pension. In the first case, the documents of the veteran are passed automatically to the Canadian Pension Commission and they render what is known as "first hearing decision." If a pension is awarded the documents are passed to the treasury branch and the pension is paid. If no pension is awarded, the reason for the decision is outlined by the commission and a copy is sent to the person concerned.

With the commission's decision goes a notice explaining that within 30 days the veteran has an opportunity to apply for a second hearing. A good many veterans of this present war have been paying little attention to the 90-day limit and while the commission has been generous in giving them latitude this will not always be the case and if a definite legal stand were taken, there is nothing the veteran can do if he has allowed the 90 days to elapse.

The second hearing is on the same basis as the first except that the Government Veterans Bureau complies what is known as the summary of evidence. This is a synopsis of the military and medical records of the claimant during service plus any additional information that has been obtained by medical examination or evidence. If he is satisfied with the summary, he has six months in which to present his claim for reconsideration. In these six months he may collect any additional evidence; obtain any fresh medical information or other relevant material.

The only other alternative to the veteran has if his second hearing meets with an adverse decision of the appeal before an appeal board of the commission which will hear the appeal in his own district. However, the best way to prove a pension claim is always at the first hearing, because of the ready accessibility of the Legion headquarters in Ottawa to the Pension Commission, cases can be discussed and other strong points brought out more readily. A claim, however, must be properly prepared and as it before the second hearing and its submission to the commission. When a case goes before an appeal board, the decision is absolutely final.

While children of disabled veterans who are receiving pensions are automatically awarded a pension as of right, it is generally known that an extension of a disabled pension, beyond the statutory age limit for children, may be obtained by disability pensioners of both wars in certain circumstances. In the case of last war pensioners, additional pension is only payable for children born before May 1, 1914.

The extension of pension for children is only granted when the pensioner is considered to be without adequate financial means and applies after a boy has reached the age of 16 years or after a girl has reached the age of 17 years.

In practice, this has come to mean that the pensioner may obtain the extension if his total income is not greater than a certain amount. However, if the pensioner's income is very much in excess of a total disability pension the pension commission does not generally allow an extension.

Additional pension, of course, must be used in some way that is beneficial to the child and it is generally recognized as something that will allow the continuance of education. In cases where the child is unable to maintain itself because of physical or mental disability, it is also possible to have the pension extended.

The procedure in applying for such a pension begins with the principal of the school, whose the child is attending, who must set out the progress of the child and whether or not the child's scholastic standing is favorable. This form is then submitted to the commission along with statements from the parents as to their financial position and the extension of pension is ruled upon. In cases of invalidation, medical evidence is required as to the health of the child. Many pensioned widows have found this benefit exceedingly helpful in having invalid children provided for, and securing educational advantages for especially bright children.

A great many veterans of the present war have not paid much attention to their possible status for pensions because of a widespread misapprehension that pensions are deductible from earnings. This is very definitely not the case as one subsection in the pension act specifically provides "no deduction shall be made from the pension of any member of the forces owing to his having undertaken work or performed himself in some form of industry."

Another reason is that the Canadian authorities have come more and more to use the "means test" in connection with other matters.

For example, when a man or woman is discharged from service or she may receive free treatment and hospitalization, as required, for a non-pensionable condition by the Department of Veterans Affairs. A rate of special hospital allowances depending upon marital status and number of dependents is also payable. If, however, other income is being received from any other source, the hospital allowance is reduced by any amount in excess of $20 per month.

For example, a married man with one child is entitled to a monthly hospital allowance of $82 while on class 3 treatment. But, if he has sickness insurance which pays him $50 a month, the hospital allowance is thereby reduced to $32 per month.

This "means test" does not apply in any way to pensions. In fact, when a pensioner enters hospital for treatment of a pensionable condition, he or she automatically gets 100 percent pension rate as a class 1 case, less only the sum of $15 per month which is applied towards the cost of maintenance.

Another type is known as class 2. Those in this class are service personnel discharged from the service as "medically unfit" direct to the Department of Veterans Affairs for hospital treatment. All such cases receive as hospital allowance their service rates of pay including tradesman's rates—no deduction of any kind is made at discharge together with dependents' allowances for any dependents they may have. The matter of the income of the person from any other source does not enter into the case at all.

25 YEARS AGO

From The Era and Express files, Jan. 9, 1920.

Mr. McEneaney of Toronto was here yesterday and commenced the installation of machinery for the new factory in the McCauley block. Work is expected to begin some day next week.

Mr. Williamson has moved his shoe shop from the market building to Main St. for want of room.

Sunday was one of the coldest days of the season though there was bright sunshine. The thermometer indicated 22 below at 8 a.m. and zero at noon.

On Christmas eve, a number of the members of the Methodist church choir met in a body and proceeded to the residence of their organist, Mrs. Mason, and presented her with an electric table lamp.

There was little interest taken in the election on Monday and only a small vote was polled. The public school trustees elected are Dr. Boyd, Dr. Wilkinson, R. E. Manning and Capt. Aubrey Davis. The by-law to continue the Metropolitan Railway Power contract was carried by a 261 majority, only 14 voting against it.

The past three weeks has seen a transformation in the interior of the old Royal Hotel building. It is to be used as offices for the Office Specialty Manufacturing Company. Managing director is H. C. Stelmis; supervisor of branches, W. E. Dolan; traffic and sales department, Mr. Dolan and G. A. Burnett; secretary and head bookkeeper, G. D. Wark; filing department, Miss Mae Keith; collecting department, Mr. Pritchard; service department, Wesley Brooks and Leslie Kelly; stock order department, Walter Stephens; cost department, John McCaffrey; purchasing department, Harry Doyle; and special order department, H. J. Smith. The factory gives constant employment to around 400 citizens.

The complimentary banquet tendered Hon. W. J. Mackenzie King by the Liberals of North York in the town hall on Tuesday evening was a magnificent success. The building was filled to capacity. Following the banquet a number of speeches were made, Howard Kane of Newmarket introducing the speakers. Others occupying seats on the platform were I. E. Fiddow, W. D. Eider, Andrew McGee, P. C. Larkin, W. D. McGregor and Mayor Bassett, Aurora. Every polling division in the riding was represented.

Prospects are good for a full supply of ice for next summer. The ice is clear and about 16 inches in thickness.

W. H. Rosenhagen fell off a ladder on Saturday and sprained his ankle.

Butter was 65 cents a pound at the local market on Saturday.

THE COMMON ROUND

By ISABEL INGLIS COLVILLE

PART OF THE SEASON

Every year we look forward with the same enthusiasm to decorating for Christmas, and every year we encounter the same difficulties and lose sight of some of the things we were sure we could track to their hiding places. "ALL the decorations are in those two big cartons on top of the wardrobe," said I to friend husband as he prepared for the fray. "ALL," he queried a bit sceptically as he removed said cartons from their lair. "ALL," I assured him triumphantly.

"That's fine," said he, and immediately inquired as he disentangled ropes of greenery from Tiger's anatomy, "where are those sprays of holly?" To Tiger's and Woolly's joy I immediately dumped the contents of both cartons on the floor, which provided a charming confusion, in the midst of which husband and step ladder moved round the arch, inextricably wound up in bells and stars, while two joyful cats slipped in and out the cartons and rising swiftly from my unproductive search, bumped my head smartly on the ladder and produced a rain of push tacks which clung affectionately to my hair.

However, as these minor accidents are a part of Christmas decorating, much was left unsaid that might have been said if we had been hanging pictures or putting up stove-pipes. As it was, the arch was finished and we stood beneath admiring it when on our faces descended pieces of red garlands; these were replaced in the midst of tense silence but the little angels' brooding above us recalled WHY we were decorating and peace descended like a benediction on the pleasant, firelit room.

The next day Lois Hunt came to help me with the trees and other decorations. Now, it's a well-known fact that no tree ever of its own free will fits into a quart seler. Said I to Lois, "Can you saw?" "I can chop better," she answered me as we filled the jars with water and added aspirin and a wee bit of sugar—not as of old—into the kitchen we dragged the trees, to the intense delight of Tiger, who rode them like a horse, and the consternation of mother, who retired to a corner with a look on her face which said, "daughters are all right in their place, especially if disassociated from Christmas trees, but I wonder."

However, we sawed and we sawed the jars and at last Lois said, "I'll take them to the shed and CHOP Eggs were 85 cents a dozen. F. S. Livingston is president of the Metropolitan hockey league. A. Davis is 1st vice-pres., A. Green, 2nd vice-pres., and Mr. McDevitt, sec.-treas. All municipal councils meet at 11 o'clock next Monday morning. The industrial school opened on Monday evening. There was a good attendance and several new members were added to the roll. Weekly newspaper publishers are now paying $15 a ton more for newsprint. A further increase in price is expected in July. As a result of the increases in the cost of newsprint and other materials, 100 newspapers went out of business in Canada last year.

There are 102 attending Newmarket high school. It has been an exceptionally mild and beautiful winter so far with very little snow—not enough to cover the ground. There was a good crowd in town last Saturday and the farmers were pleased to note a rise in prices on the market. Butter brought from 14 cents to 16 cents a pound. Potatoes were 35 cents and 40 cents a bag. Apples were 60 cents to $1 a bag. Flour was $3 to $3.50 a barrel. Also offered for sale were spring wheat, goose wheat, barley, oats, peas, rye, bran, shorts, sheepskins, wool, hay, pork, and beef. Eggs were 18 cents to 20 cents a dozen. Geese brought 26 cents a pound. Chickens were 25 cents to 40 cents a pair, ducks 60 cents to 75 cents a pair and turkeys seven cents and eight cents a pound.

Last Thursday evening the Hunter family went to the Industrial Home and gave the old folks an evening's enjoyment with a magic lantern entertainment. Over 200 views were shown.

At the council meeting Monday evening the chairman of the road and bridge committee gave a report showing how the committee had spent $1,240 during the past year. Eight hundred and forty feet of new four-foot walk were laid and 400 feet of walk were re-laid with cedar scantling. There is hardly a street in town that did not have improvements of some kind. Large quantities of gravel and stone were put on the principal streets.

POT POURRI

By GOLDEN GLOW

I don't know how many times this week I've been told "Be sure to tell the boys overseas about our snow." I guess every letter you get is telling you, for a while ago, we had one of the worst downfalls of 75 years, and it has kept on, a bit now and again ever since, with only one mild day, New Year's Day, since Dec. 12, the day of the storm. Well, I'd say it must be the worst in a century by now.

This is Sunday night again and I find I can write better at this hour. I am wide awake instead of being ready for bed. So where shall I begin for this week?

Yes, New Year's Day was quite mild for this season—but it was one of the worst days of all for the snow came down like rain, without a let-up, and cars kept getting stuck. Snow-shovels were one of the most important things in town that day.

Of course the snow-plow is busy. But alas! You no sooner get an opening shovelled so you can get across the road when back it comes and plugs up your opening worse than ever. On several of the narrow streets, the plow keeps shovelling it back on the sidewalks as soon as the owners clear the walk. So everybody walks on the road in this particular spot. But if a car, let alone one in each direction, comes along just what could we do for the drifts and piles of snow are too high to jump over—or even climb over? Yes, it is a terror all right—and it is pretty general all over the country. Even on the west coast they are getting sub-zero weather and snow.

However, I heard over the radio that overseas they are having the coldest winter—and the most snow—in 53 years. It looks as if we are all alike. Never mind. "If winter comes, can spring be far behind?" Spring gets nearer every day and the sun gains more strength. It is still so dark in the morning that the school children have to go to school some mornings before the street lights are off. But it won't be that way much longer! Soon we shall be looking for the first pussy-willow and watching for the ice to break up in the pond. Then the water coming in torrents over the dam and we'll know spring really has come.

But as I said last week we hope and trust the "January thaw" will come by degrees, else we'll all float away on the crest of the flood all this snow will cause. No wonder our thoughts fly to the sunny south. It is hard to believe flowers are blooming anywhere when all we can see here is snow and more snow. And just now the weatherman on the newscast says "Slightly milder with snow"—so out comes the snow-shovels and the town snow-plow again!

Several have told me that after reading my article where I spoke of listening to Leonard K. Brockington, they, too, listened and I wonder did they hear him tonight. After the CBL newscast Matthew Halton spoke from Belgium and he told about interviewing some German prisoners of war, and the different ideas each one he spoke to had about the progress of the war. It was one of his best talks. Then came Mr. Brockington's talk.

I wish I could recall it in detail for I know it would be most interesting to you boys overseas, though the women might not care for it particularly. In fact, you likely know all about it. But I'll tell you what his subject was and try to recall a bit—

I jotted down a figure now and again but I didn't think of it for you or I'd have done better.

Mr. Brockington dropped something on the table and we heard the sound. He explained it was a tin can, a canvas bag and a cardboard box, and he wanted to tell us a bit about each. It was the emergency rations—army, air force and navy. Now pardon me, as George Formby says, if I make mistakes—I probably will. The cardboard box was the army ration, enough for 24 hours. In fact the army carries two, one called the "M and V" which means bully beef and vegetable compound. The other is composed of little tablets, a sugar and tea block, and two slabs of raisin chocolate and two plain chocolate, two oatmeal blocks and two packages of chewing gum. With them are cooking instructions. I recall he said there were 3,000 calories altogether.

The canvas bag was for the airmen—800 calories in these emergency rations. The Canadian scientists have worked out a formula after seven months of experimenting. The bag contains two small packets of biscuits and a chocolate bar—you eat the biscuits with the chocolate—and two sticks of gum.

Then for the navy—the emergency rations for the navy were two small cans, enough for eight men. The one tin is for water, about the size of a can of peas, only wedge-shaped. I think he said, and it won't freeze at 15 degrees below zero, nor rust. It is opened by a tiny can-opener attached to it. The other tin—the one for food—is like a sardine tin, only deeper, also scientifically made to withstand extremes of climate, contains 12 chocolate tablets, 12 concentrated biscuits made of flour, vitamin B, egg, salt, citric acid and vanilla, and two chocolate bars made to withstand a temperature of 212 degrees without melting, and 12 little malted milk tablets. This may read like a lot of statistics I know, but I do think you'll be interested to know what our commentators tell us over here. Are we interested? Cheerio. Keep smiling a while longer.

ELM GROVE W.I. HAS PLEASANT PRE-NOEL MEETING

The Elm Grove Women's Institute members were entertained at the Pringle home at Baldwin on Dec. 21 due to a postponement the previous week owing to bad weather. Mrs. Geneva Jewel was hostess and had the living-room alive with color and decorations in keeping with the festive season. It was the smallest gathering since the branch was organized, with only eight of the 44 members present due to the terrible condition of the roads. A great deal was accomplished despite the small attendance.

The friendship quilt, which was worked by the members, was all set up for quilting. After the president, Mrs. Johnston, opened the meeting, the ladies went to work with needles and thread as the meeting got under way. Hospitals seemed to be in the minds of the members as donations were made to three. It was decided to donate $25 to the new wing of York County hospital. A discussion took place as to what would be done with the quilt when it was finished, and it was decided to donate it to the Sutton hospital. There was a lot of work in collecting the names and working them on the blocks, but Mrs. C. Tomlinson deserves much credit as she assembled the quilt and prepared it for quilting.

A third donation of $20 was made to a Canadian hospital in Tapscott, Eng. The money was raised by tickets on a quilt donated to the W.I. by a non-member, Mrs. Geo. Crittenden, of Baldwin. The lucky ticket, owned by Miss Eileen Weldon, Queensville school teacher, was drawn at this meeting by Mrs. I. Tomlinson.

John Lewis, Queensville, who is a silent worker for the W.I. in selling tickets on various occasions, sold the lucky ticket. A Christmas program, prepared by Mrs. A. Smallwood with the assistance of Mrs. Jewel, was opened by Mrs. J. Munro who spoke on the origin of Christmas carols. This was followed by singing Silent Night and O, Little Town of Bethlehem. The following readings were given, Christmas Thoughts, by Mrs. N. Munro, Burning of the Yule Log, by Mrs. I. Tomlinson, Origin of Santa Claus, by Mrs. Joel Chapelle. Mrs. Johnston read Winston Churchill's message to the world on Christmas 1943.

The Christmas number of the Elm Grove Echo by far exceeded all previous editions. The credit going mostly to the editor, Mrs. A. Smallwood. A contest, won by Mrs. Joel Chapelle, brought the program to a close. After the National Anthem a light lunch was served.

KESWICK
The Lakeside Women's Institute will entertain Roche's Point Women's Institute on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 16, at the home of Mrs. J. E. Baine. The roll-call will be Why I go to the Institute. Word has been received of the passing of Mrs. Harry Jackson's father.

A number from here attended the funeral in Newmarket on Tuesday of Miss Bertha Trivett, sister of Mrs. Jack Gable.

75 TURN OUT TO SEE ADA GIVES FIRST AID

The postponed Sunday-school entertainment attracted a crowd of 75, despite unfavorable weather. The songs, the recitations and the stunts by the pupils of Ravenshoe and Mount Pleasant public schools were much enjoyed. The one-act play, given by the young people of Ravenshoe church, delighted everybody. The play was called Ada Gives First Aid. The following took part: Mrs. Ted Breen, Mrs. Stanley Armstrong, Mrs. Ralph Holborn, Miss Evelyn King, Miss Beryl Glover, Miss Marion Hamilton, Ralph Holborn and Lea Glover. Mrs. Lorne Mahoney was director.

Proceeds of the evening were $11.75.

Service was held last Sunday, with attendance limited to those in the village, because of road conditions. Next Sunday the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated. Sunday-school will follow the service as usual.

The monthly W.A. supper will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 17. A quilting will be held in the afternoon and the election of church officers for 1943 will be held in the evening.

There will be a communion service at the United church on Sunday, Jan. 14.

School children are back to school after extra holidays due to the snow storm.

KETTLEBY

The December meeting of the Kettleby Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. E. B. West. This being the Christmas meeting a splendid donation of apples, candy, cookies and magazines was brought in and was taken to the York County home as their annual Christmas treat.

A report of the war work of the institute was given by the convener, Mrs. E. West. Twenty-six boxes were packed and sent overseas. Six ditty bags were packed and 22 boys and girls in Canada were remembered with boxes of chocolates and Christmas cards. Several letters were read from the boys overseas who had received their parcels. A layette, three cot quilts, a large quilt and used clothing were sent to the Red Shield along with a number of knitted articles.

A report on the convention held in Toronto was given by Mrs. Ineson and Mrs. Fry. A table mat contest was won by Mrs. Norman

SHUR-GAIN 18% HATCHING MASH

Hit-or-miss feeding of the laying flock is a memory of the past. Well-informed poultrymen have long been convinced of the wisdom of feeding for the particular results they want to achieve.

Feeding for high hatching results is no exception. The eggs you collect that are intended for the incubator should come from flocks fed just for this purpose. A good laying mash won't do — you need a mash intended solely for hatching flocks.

SHUR-GAIN 18% Hatching Mash supplies the high quality proteins and minerals needed to keep the flock laying well, and is extra fortified with vitamins, particularly Riboflavin, to improve hatching results.

SHUR-GAIN 18% Hatching Mash is an economical feed too — you'll get more and healthier chicks, less mortality in the shell, and save on your feeding costs as well.

In Memoriam

Elmer—In ever loving memory of a dear aunt, Mrs. Robert Elmer, who passed away seven years ago, Jan. 6, 1938.
Gone, but not forgotten.
Ever remembered by her niece, Sarah Ellen Rose.

Graham—In loving memory of a dear mother, Lettie Graham, who passed away on Jan. 7, 1944. And while she lies in peaceful sleep, Her memory we shall always keep. Sadly missed by son, Roy, and family.

Harman—In memory of our dear mother, Bessie Harman, who passed away Jan. 12, 1943, and also our dear father, Benjamin Harman, who passed away March 14, 1938.
Deep in our hearts lies a picture Of loved ones laid to rest.
In memory's frame we shall keep it Because they were two of the best.
Lovingly remembered by children, Mabel, Bessie, Rena and Caesar.

Huston—In loving memory of our mother, Emily Huston, who passed away Jan. 11, 1944. We mourn for her in silence, No eyes can see us weep, But many a silent tear is shed While others are asleep.
Ever remembered by daughter, Mae, son-in-law, Max, grandchildren, Shirley, Paul and Donald.

Jones—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, John W. Jones, who died Jan. 11, 1944. Love's greatest gift—remembrance. Always sadly missed by his wife and son, Donald.

Jones—In fond and loving memory of our dear son and brother, John William Jones, who passed away Jan. 14, 1944. It is loneliness here without you, Johnny.
There is such a vacant space; For we never hear your footsteps.
For we loved you so we miss you, As we loved you so we miss you.
In our memory you are near; Loved, remembered, longed for always.
Bringing many a silent tear, Good was his heart, his friendship true.
Loved and respected by all he knew.
To a useful life came a sudden end, He died as he lived, everyone's friend.
Thy will be done.
Too dearly loved to ever be forgotten by mother, dad, sisters and brothers of Owen Sound.

Keetch—In loving memory of my dear mother, Rachel Keetch, who passed away Jan. 3, 1944. Dear mother you are not forgotten, Though on earth you are no more, Still in memory you are with us. As you always were before. Sadly missed by Wilmet, Edna and family.

Lepard—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, George Abraham Lepard, who died Jan. 3, 1943. January brings sad memories, Of one we laid to rest, And those who think of you, dear dad, Are the ones who loved you best. Sadly miss you and try not to grieve.
A little while longer and we all must meet you on that beautiful shore, Where parting is unknown and life evermore.
Sadly missed by wife and family.

Morton—In loving memory of our dear mother who passed away Jan. 8, 1939. Sweet memories linger forever, Time cannot change them, it's true; Years that may come cannot sever Our loving remembrance of you. Ever remembered and sadly missed by Vera and Melvin.

Nelson—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Emanuel Nelson, who lost his life on Jan. 10, 1938. We miss you, As it dawns another year; In our lonely hours of thinking, In thoughts of you are always near. Short and sudden was the call, The blow was great, the shock severe. Only those who have loved can tell The pain in parting without saying farewell.
Ever remembered and sadly missed by mother, father, brother and sisters.

Nelson—In loving memory of my brother, Emanuel, who was drowned in Lake Simcoe, Jan. 14, 1938, also his three companions. Oh for the touch of a vanished hand And the sound of a voice that is stilled.
Always remembered and sadly missed by sister, Badye.

CAPITALS TAKE

Johnson and Don Smith being on the firing line. Bowcott came through to help the Green-shirts' score along.

Earl O'Brien, the big defence-man of the Capitals, and Don Dunham, speedy centre star, salted down the game early in the final canto as they collaborated with Jim McManus in both instances to try to put dirt. With less than a minute to go Mark-ham counted twice to keep the pressure on.

Play was plenty rugged throughout, neither side asking for nor receiving any quarter. Referee Bob Peters paraded 14 miscreants to the box for cooling out, eight for the locals, six to the visiting puck chasers. Every man-jack on Stan Smith's squad, from net-minder out, played a bang up game.

Britton between the uprigths came to the rescue with some marvellous saves as the visitors turned on the pressure. O'Brien at the blue line broke up play after play to hold off the Green-shirts.

Harry Cardonna and Earl Purdon were able assistants. Up on the firing line, Bob Smith turned in one of the best games of his hockey career. Don Dunham, Jim McManus and Don Smith showed well. Barney Peterman put up a great display of fore-checking, being especially good when the Redmen were short-handed. Des Doyle and Earl Purdon, latest acquisitions to the club, turned in good games and will prove their worth with a couple of games under their belts.

Richmond Hill will put in an appearance next Monday to tackle the Redmen and plenty of action is promised in Les Beazer's ice box.

By GEORGE HASKETT

To open their hockey jamboree for the 1945 season, the Newmarket junior entry hit the road to Richmond Hill last Friday. The North Yonge Radial squad, led by that erstwhile Newmarket-Aurora hockey mogul, Charlie Rowntree, spoiled the chances of the local sextet getting away on the right foot as his charges turned back the canal towners by 6-3 count.

Before the fans had settled down the hill-billy boys had slapped home an easy try, rolling in one during the first minute of play. They added another lead before the end of the period, a lead which they never relinquished throughout the game.

The initial period went to the hillers by a good margin. The Capitals spruced up in the middle stanza and held their own right down the line matching score for score with the hill kids.

In the final session the canal towners held a territorial advantage over their fast-stepping rivals but were outpointed on the scoreboard 2 to 1. A couple of flare-ups enlivened the early and final periods to keep the fans up on their toes. It was a five-minute rest for the gladiators as Referee Pat Patterson chased them to clink for cooling out.

For the Capitals, Don Smith, home on leave from the air force, led the scoring, getting the locals' first marker and following with two assists. "Whitely" Jones, Aurora's contribution to the Newmarket roster, chipped in with a counter. "Barney" Peterman slapped home the third and final score. Mac. Clement for the Hill rocketed to the top of the point gainers as he whistled home three goals. McCrone, John Sullivan and Hessard collected the other three.

Former A.H.S. Student Adds D.S.O. To D.F.C.

According to press dispatches, Squad-Ldr. John Perry, D.F.C., of Woodbridge, former student and athlete at Aurora high school, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Order.

Squad-Ldr. Perry thus becomes the second of the five winners of the D.F.C. in Aurora to win the D.S.O., the other being the late Wing Commander Lloyd V. Chadburn, D.S.O. and Bar. D.F.C.

Squad-Ldr. Perry enlisted in January, 1941, receiving his wings at Hagersville in December of the same year. He served as an instructor in Canada until August, 1943, when he went overseas. He was awarded the D.F.C. last fall and was home on leave last December.

His citation said he had completed two operational duties overseas as a pilot and his successes were "a splendid tribute to his outstanding ability, great personal courage and iron determination."

His mother, Mrs. John Perry, resides at Woodbridge, but formerly lived at Schomberg.

Complete Control Is Only

Following is the article written by Sgt. Angus M. Dawson, eldest son of Mrs. H. Dawson, Wellington St., and brother of the late Sgt. Charles Dawson, who was killed in action in Italy. "What should we do with Germany after the war to prevent another world conflict?" The article appeared in a writing contest in the France-Belgium edition of the Canadian army newspaper, The Maple Leaf, and won the daily prize of a 100-franc note. It is now under consideration for the grand prize among all the letters submitted. Sgt. Dawson enlisted in 1940 with a British Columbia regiment, going overseas in 1942. He has been in action in France, Belgium and Holland since D-day.

To levy against Germany vast sums of money for reparations, which would never be paid, would be economically unwise, in view of past experience.

Germany, for centuries, has been a proud nation—one of the great powers—and her people have been brought up to believe that they are a master race.

Germany must be made to understand that "crime does not pay."

In order to accomplish this, Germany must be reduced to a peasant state, similar in standards to Holland. This would be the most severe form of punishment that could be possibly meted out to a country whose people have had a "superiority complex" for so many centuries, and would be the means of ensuring everlasting peace.

We could accomplish this by confiscating all implements of war as well as the facilities of manufacturing more, and by curtailing the ownership of trucks and tractors to two-ton and 30-horsepower respectively. Forbidding public or private ownership of all makes of planes, and permitting only the manufacture of small arms required for law enforcement is also necessary.

The Ruhr. Reducing her armed forces to that of peacetime civil police departments would be necessary to keep Germany from rearming.

It would be our task to remove all power machinery from Germany, and restrict manufacturing to articles of personal and household requirements.

The Ruhr would be governed by a commission set up by the Allies. It would be the duty of this body to take care of the sale of all produce at a profit to all countries, including Germany, and to finance its own administration with part of the profits. Further, the commission would be responsible for the removal of all experimental laboratories for chemical and explosive research.

Scientists employed in these laboratories would be encouraged to continue their work under Allied control, and the fruits of their labors harnessed for the good of all mankind.

The expropriation of East Prussia by Russia, thereby depriving Germany of the "old home of the junkers" and granting the U.S.S.R. a year-round port on the Baltic, would be another aid in assuring the world of peace.

It would be essential that the army of occupation should be on duty for 20 years, checking educational institutions, government functions and police departments.

After 20 years of this type of living, the Germans would become peace loving people and would be worshipping their Beethovens and Bachs, rather than the Hitlers and Himmlers.

Mayor Ross Linton told Aurora town council at its first meeting of the new year Monday evening that in his opinion, now was the best time to set about the equalization of assessment. Council discussed a suggestion that three or four towns together hire a reputable firm to do the assessing for them and split the cost.

Other suggestions of Mayor Linton for the coming council year were the naming of town streets, a survey of lighting, provision of playground equipment for the park, a "welcome home banquet" for returning servicemen and women and a survey of town lighting equipment.

The retiring high school trustee, Mrs. Vivian Wilcox, was re-appointed to the board by the council. Dr. Babcock was re-appointed to the public library board and P. M. Thompson was re-appointed to the board of health.

Council also passed the annual by-law authorizing the borrowing of up to $40,000 to cover town costs until taxes were in.

At 11 a.m. Monday morning, the council was sworn in by Clerk A.

C. A. Willis, Canon F. J. Fife addressed the meeting and following him, ex-mayors F. J. Underhill and P. M. Thompson, Dr. G. W. Williams, M.O.H., and the town solicitor, Lorne C. Lee, also spoke.

The following is the personnel of the council committees with their chairmen: property committee, R. V. Smith, Dr. Crawford Rose, Elwood Davis; social and sanitation committee, Dr. Rose, Councillor Smith, Wm. West; sports and publicity, Councillor Davis, F. A. Rowland, Councillor Smith; finance, Deputy Reeve A. A. Cook, Reeve C. E. Sparks, A. N. Fisher; streets committee, Reeve Sparks, Councillor Fisher, Deputy Reeve Cook; water and fire committee, Councillor Fisher, Deputy Reeve Cook, Councillor Davis; police committee, Mayor Ross Linton, Deputy Reeve Cook, Councillor Fisher; post-war and rehabilitation committee, Councillor West, Reeve Sparks, Councillor Rowland; by-laws committee, Councillor Rowland, Councillor West and Councillor Rose.

The striking committee was Mayor Linton, Deputy Reeve Cook, Reeve Sparks and Councillor Fisher.

Trade Unionist Speaks In Support Of P.C. Policy

"The labor policies of the Progressive Conservative party are not something put on paper to win an election, but a sincere, careful analysis of what will benefit the working man," Bert Merson, for 32 years one of Canada's leading Trade Unionists, told the Aurora Progressive Conservative association on Thursday at a well attended meeting in the Oddfellows hall. "Unionism is not a slogan, it is a way of life, it is a philosophy, it is a principle, it is a policy, it is a program, it is a plan, it is a goal, it is a dream, it is a vision, it is a hope, it is a faith, it is a belief, it is a conviction, it is a determination, it is a resolve, it is a promise, it is a pledge, it is a vow, it is a covenant, it is a contract, it is a treaty, it is a law, it is a rule, it is a regulation, it is a decree, it is a command, it is a mandate, it is a directive, it is an order, it is a commandment, it is a precept, it is a maxim, it is a proverb, it is a saying, it is a phrase, it is a clause, it is a sentence, it is a paragraph, it is a chapter, it is a book, it is a volume, it is a series, it is a set, it is a collection, it is a compilation, it is a digest, it is a summary, it is a synopsis, it is a review, it is a critique, it is an analysis, it is an evaluation, it is an appraisal, it is an assessment, it is a judgment, it is a verdict, it is a decision, it is a conclusion, it is a recommendation, it is a suggestion, it is a proposal, it is a plan, it is a program, it is a policy, it is a principle, it is a philosophy, it is a way of life, it is a unionism."

Free trade unions, he declared, would disappear in a socialist state. The problems of labor and the returned man must be dealt with jointly and not as separate things. He had confidence that the working men and trade unions were anxious to see the service men get a square deal and full rehabilitation. The party's policies, he felt, were those best calculated to obtain that result.

Mr. Merson was introduced by Earl Toole, the Progressive Conservative candidate for North York, who spoke briefly. "The dark days of the 30's must never return. I sincerely believe we have the solution for ensuring the common man a decent living." The problems of farmers and workers were not too far apart he felt. If agriculture was prosperous, Canada was prosperous, and organized labor would benefit.

Hugh McRae, president of the local association, presided.

SALVAGE DRIVE AIDS
WAR MEMORIAL FUND

Aurora citizens did a grand job in answering the Aurora Board of Trade's appeal for waste paper last Saturday. With five trucks plus a large number of volunteer workers, including the Aurora Boy Scouts.

Trucks were made available without charge by Collis Leathers Ltd., Sisman Shoe Co., Deputy Reeve A. A. Cook, St. Andrew's College and the town of Aurora.

"We are very appreciative of all who contributed their services and trucks, and for the co-operation of the public," Dr. E. J. Henderson, president of the Board of Trade, said. "We intend to have collections regularly, as well as collecting more frequently from the stores. It provides a nice steady flow of money for the War Memorial Fund."

SCHOOL RINK IN OPERATION

The area at the rear of the high school has been flooded by the pupils to provide a fine outdoor rink for skating and hockey practice. The rink at Aurora public school is again in operation and finds great popularity with the kids.

SENDS SEASON'S GREETINGS

Mr. and Mrs. George Langstaff, Wellington St., received a cable extending season's greetings from their son, Lorne Langstaff, overseas with the merchant marine. Lorne has not been home for many months.

best for the money spent and would not stand the test of time. The government had done little planning, and many of the present new housing schemes would shortly be classed as slums themselves, he declared.

PROMINENT FARMER ELECTED DIRECTOR BANK OF TORONTO

JOHN J. E. McCAGUE has been elected a Director of the Bank of Toronto. He will bring a wealth of practical farming knowledge and a sympathetic understanding of the farmer's problems that will be invaluable to his associates on the Bank's directorate. Mr. McCague is president of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, vice-chairman of the Canadian National Live Stock Records Committee, and vice-president of the Dairy Farmers of Canada. In 1921, after receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in Agriculture from Ontario Agricultural College, he was appointed representative by the Ontario Department of Agriculture for South Simcoe and opened offices at Alliston, Ont. He later represented the Department in Carleton Place. In 1928 he took over management of T.P. Loblaw's noted Stevenson Farms at Alliston and, following Mr. Loblaw's death in 1933, purchased part of Stevenson Farms and established his own Glenaston Farm where he has developed an outstanding pure bred Holstein herd. Mr. McCague is past president of the Canadian Swine Breeders' Association and the Canadian Fox Breeders' Association.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Beat the drums! Another big hockey event is headed your way tonight when Toronto Army puck-chasers meet the pace-setting blue and gold team from Newmarket camp. Better be there early for last week around 1,200 took in the opener and went away singing the praises of Billy Taylor and company and promising to return again. It looks as if Newmarket arena has hit the jackpot this year, a fine start for municipal ownership. We didn't see the Newmarket team in action but from all accounts the fans really went for the Caswell clan in a big way and the entire personnel turned in fine performances.

Consensus seemed to be that joint McComb doesn't have to take a back seat to any of the professional stars on the team. It has been our contention for some time that the former pride of Aurora, if given the opportunity, could make the grade in bigtime. Jack Life who didn't show to much advantage last winter, was the scoring star of the night with three neat counters. With Taylor and Guidolin to set up the plays, Life should be headed for a big year. Long John Callanan, on a P.T. course at Long Branch, was an absentee but should be in action tonight. Capt. Caswell turned in a fine game in the nets and is apparently back to the form which made him the toast of Varsity arena a few years back.

We heard criticism of the refereeing but it should be remembered that Bob Peters and Stew Patrick were making their first start of the season and it's no easy job refereeing where ex-pros, ex-seniors and ex-junior A players are concerned. If the boys did make a few mistakes it was impartially done and next time out they will bear down with an iron hand from the start.

A prophet is seldom honored in his own bailiwick and that goes for referees too. In the past we have seen local officials panned unmercifully and visiting referees who commanded a higher fee get away with less competent officiating without a word being said. We guess it'll always be that way. Junior hockey is now underway and the fans in canal town will do well not to overlook Stan Smith's proteges. We saw them in action at Richmond Hill last Friday night and while they lost the game, they went down with flying colors. It will perhaps take the entire first half of the schedule for Stan to sort out the best and get them clicking but there are great possibilities.

Attendance at the games and plenty of rooting will do much to help the kids and give them confidence in themselves. Remember, the fellows you applauded in the service series weren't much better than most of your own youngsters a few years ago. One thing will help Smith do a job and that is for well meaning rooters and advisers to give him a free hand. Free advice, especially from those near the players' bench, doesn't help the coach much. He is the one person to direct traffic and in small rinks such as the Hill, the players are too apt to listen to other advice. The coach knows what he wants and how he wants the game played. After all, if the team flops he takes the blame and if they're winners he has to share the glory with a good many. We like to see plenty of spirited rooting but we don't like it to interfere with the master-minding of the team. A word to the wise should be sufficient.

Charlie Rowntree has come up with a mighty nice little team again that looks better than last winter despite the loss of Andy Wolfe to Stratford seniors with Bill Chris, Blondie Blakey and others. In the opener, Sonny Rowntree was missing being on a course at Guelph O.A.C. and likewise missed was Aurora's Billy Munnell. Bill suffered an eye injury the night previous in Lions club competition at Aurora and was lucky to escape so easily. If we were to offer our advice, it would be for Bill to concentrate on either O.H.A. or Lions hockey. He will be playing high school hockey too but you can't give your best on three fronts at the same time.

Jimmy Grainger, press agent of the Hill club and former goalie for Aurora juniors, has done a swell job of arranging a program that is big and should net the team a tidy sum for the treasury. There are thumbnail sketches of all the players, the visiting line-up complete with numbers, the referee's name and a number which entitles the purchaser to share in a lucky draw. A program of that sort does much to help the fans follow the game and lends quite a bit of color to junior hockey. We extend congratulations and hope to see the system invoked in other centres before the season is over.

Next Monday the Hill youngsters will visit Newmarket so you might as well meet the team in print before they get here. Sweaters are the same as last year, blue and red with gold and black crest. Norm Studden only 15 years of age, with his light fitting pads and blonde hair, is again in goal and as good as ever. This kid, now in his third year of organized hockey, is a real comer and should be in pro company before he gets through. Stacey Herb Rose, who didn't get much of a chance last winter, holds down one defence post and he is as steady as a rock. Ironically enough, Herb is actually a native son of Newmarket, being born there Oct. 21, 1927. At 15 Herb is in the reserve army and went through a gruelling session at Niagara with the best.

Mac Clement, smooth young catcher of the Hill baseball team, is, at 15, making his debut in junior O.H.A. He was a regular power-house on the offence, coasting through for three picture-play goals. Once he was wound up the Redmen couldn't handle him. He played a nearly the whole game and never weakened. He needs to pass the puck more and break faster. If he develops these two things, he'll be headed for a big future. Gordy Salvo, a sticky youngster, oldest player on the team and married, is a holdover from last year and can play well up front, but this year will defend the blueline. Gordy, originally from Toronto, now lives at King City.

George Chantler, former Newmarket boy, rounds out the defence men and while he was used the other night, he will be used only sparingly. He played both on defence and at left wing. Jim Dunn, Toronto boy who ended the season of '44 with the Hill, is back again. It is his last year in junior and he is big and fast. Johnny Sullivan, at left wing, needs little mention. Son of a great hockey father, Frank Sullivan, he has inherited the family ability and as last year, will rank with the best in the league. He could have played junior A with Marlboro. Bob Hazzard, youngest player on the team, is a tall, blonde kid, very skinny but smart for his age. He comes from Toronto and can be tabbed for future reference. He scored the sixth goal of the last week on a blistering shot to the upper left corner that was a masterpiece.

Dunlop McGroove of Bond Lake, who finished the season last year with Newmarket, centred the second line and is much better than last year. He has taken on weight and was very fast. We suppose he will team with Munnell and Rowntree.

Earl McGroove, a tall, smooth skater who played previously with Scarborough, is ready to play either centre or at wing and do it well. He was one of the best on the Hill last Friday. Jim Smith, blonde batter from Willowdale, George and Jack Runney, two farm boys from Victoria Square who are playing bush league regularly, Ray Chantler, a plucker from Woodbridge, Frank Sullivan, youngest of the Irish clan, give Rowntree plenty of reserve strength. The Hill can drop almost anybody but Studden from the line-up and find a capable replacement.

Grant Nighwander of Markham fame is manager of the team and of course chief rooter is Howard Jackman. You will like the battling style of the Hill kids.

Red Palmer was an absentee from the Newmarket nets because of working hours while Britton, ex-Victory Aircraft, did a good chore, the opinion was that Palmer would strengthen the team. Britton got off on the wrong foot as he fanned on the first shot of the game and couldn't see the long shot which gave the Hill a 2-0 lead.

It improved as the game went on and the blunder for the loss, Sonny Hunkam, a blonde youngster from near Buffalo who has played in the Niagara district, spearheaded the Newmarket attack and led his mates time after time on vain sorties.

Don Smith, home on furlough from Patricia Bay, B.C., turned in a good game considering his absence from the ice and that goes too for Whitey Jones, fresh from hospital. Johnny McManus, a Halifax product, was used both on defence and the wing and gave a good account of himself as did Long John O'Brien, an Ottawa boy. The latter played a sturdy game on defence.

Blondie Easterhouse suffered a severe jolt in the second period which slowed down his play but he gamely plugged on. Barney Ferguson, ace of the '44 squad, looked slow and couldn't get going. He can definitely do better.

Murray Jelley went well in spots as did Lanky Smith and Harry Caradonna. These three have the stuff but weren't strutting it last Friday. The entire team needs more work and more condition!

In all the fanfare concerning hockey in the district, the nifty basketball team of Newmarket camp has been pretty well overlooked. Lieut. Bert Shaw, better associated with hockey than basketball, is looking a lot better this year and doing a good job. The team has broken even with Brantford camp and St. Andrew's College and lost single games to "A 10" and the Canadian Armored Corps from Camp Borden. They will shortly be resuming their activities and hope to increase their win record.

Herb Reynett, a stocky, curly-headed lad from Ottawa, is one of the stars of the team and from his position at guard, surprisingly enough, manages to rank with the leading scorers. Harvie Avison of hockey fame, teams up with him and the Brantford boys, a general favorite around Newmarket (town and camp) can really put the ball from well out. Avison, however, is expected to leave the camp shortly.

Johnny Callanan, another puck-chaser, has an ideal build for the basketball court but his hockey duties tie him up for many of the games. Roy Griffith, Abbotford, B.C., Normie McLeod, Ottawa Glebe and Harry Weltman, also from Ottawa, are other starry snipers. Jack Rudderham, the baseball pitcher, plays a fair sort of game too, as do Aaron Katzman of Windsor, Harry Van Diepen, London, and Art Donaldson, Trail, B.C.

Jack Troyer of Aylmer is another nifty performer who is not always available, however. The team wears yellow jerseys with red shorts and the Redmen track suits are worn in pre-game warm-ups. If given plenty of games and the opportunity to work together the camp may have another championship ship team in their midst in the basketball personnel.

Arrivals overseas in recent weeks include: Harry Couse, the Cookstown boy who was the top hurler in York-Simcoe competition for two years as a member of Barrie Collegians; Kenny Avison, last year a member of Brampton Bulls and before that with Oakville Juniors against Aurora in the local group and also the leading scorer in the Ontario lacrosse association; Ernie Nye of Gravenhurst who was a member of the Barrie tri-county youth team which played against Aurora back in 1931; Bobby Lynn, the returned net star of Toronto Native Sons, Marlboro, Markham S.P.A. team and in 1932 of the Aurora R.C.O.C. team. Bobby was stationed at Peterborough camp for some months and then transferred back to Ordnance.

Also over is Johnny Mathewson of Newmarket who played some time junior hockey for Aurora when his hometown decided he was too young and too small to play with the Redmen, then building for a championship.

Back home for a well-earned rest from bombing duties over Germany is PO Don Wilson. Don won the moniker of "Brains" when he came down from Bradford to take over a wing position for the Redmen which he held in 1933 when they won the Dominion title. He has recently won his commission and is holidaying in Orlino where his wife and family reside. Don started with Newmarket at the age of 15 and was in his fourth year of O.H.A. competition when they won the title. It was he who made that never-to-be-forgotten shot against National Sea Flea juniors which sent the Redmen rolling on their way.

If you remember, it was one of the oddest crucial goals ever scored. Wilson lifted one from the blueline which hit high on the screen in front of the net and caromed off the back of Clinger Hall to elch the game. The Redmen hung on for dear life after that, the closest call they had en route to the title.

Next year, along with Peg Kelly, he went to St. Michael's College to become one of the few players in hockey history to play on successive teams in 1011 titlesholders, each time with a different team. Next year he played junior at Oshawa, then had a joint overseas for two years with Earlscourt Rovers, then to Verdun seniors. After Verdun he went to Lea Canadlens and after failure with his ill-fated line mates, had four successful years with New Haven Eagles.

He played lacrosse with Bradford and then Aurora juniors of 1934, then to senior company with Orlino Terriers and a Manx Cup medal. A quiet fellow, Don didn't wait for his call but went into action with the R.C.A.F. of his own accord and his many friends will be keeping their fingers crossed in the hope that his return tip to duty may be as successful as his first big tour of operations.

Junior C for Barrie Lions against Aurora in 1939 and the next season as was in junior B against the Aurorans. Reported as on the bit in Italy but still in the pink is Whippet McMaster, the speedy winger of the Newmarket camp team of 1932. McMaster, a native of the Soo, where he had played with the junior Greyhounds, was a popular figure with the Newmarket fans as a member of the peppermint line of Nicky McMaster and Tommy Stewart. Mentioning Stewart recalls the fact that his hometown, Midland, was a member of the district O.H.A. group a few years ago. Midland is playing O.H.A. again and depending upon a bunch of oldtimers in most cases. Sid Brodeur, who played fancy hockey against Newmarket two years ago, has again dipped in the Waubashene "fountain of youth" and come up for his 18th year of O.H.A. hockey. Bev. Scott, another veteran star, is ready to go again.

Frank Classey, former Thornhill junior lacrosse player, now a captain and twice wounded in Italy, mentioned in dispatches from overseas for his leadership and courage. Among the masses of other athletes noted were Fil-Lieut. Jack Hopkins of Orangeville and Maj. Bill Darling of Toronto. Hopkins was a member of that good Orangeville junior team which defeated Aurora in the O.H.A. junior finals of 1938. Maj. Darling was one of the greatest footballers ever turned out by St. Andrew's College and in addition he won gridiron fame with R.M.C. Varsity and Argonauts.

Victory Aircraft has been grouped in the intermediate O.H.A. with Guelph O.A.C. and Norval, in preference to having a bye all season. They will play their games in Guelph. Gravenhurst has dropped out of junior O.H.A., leaving Barrie and Orillia to carry on alone. So it was a good thing for Jimmy Walker's boys they managed to secure a transfer out of the north group. Barrie is depending on exhibition games to keep them in top form and judging by their showing to date, the Colts will again rate at or near the top when the junior B honors are being finally decided.

Harry Pearcey, well-known district bowler, was among those being elected to municipal office. Harry is the new reeve of Tottenham village. It was pleasing to see Bill West put in as a councillor at Aurora. Bill is a keen golfer, has played both softball and hockey in the town league for the Collis Leather Co. and a few years ago was a valued member of the executive of the Aurora junior hockey club.

Rod Smith, who headed the Aurora council's sports committee last year, which did a pretty good job, was returned to office by a nice majority. Tom Swindle, who was a good booster of sports and an active member of the same committee, was not returned to council but just missed the boat by four votes. We hope, now he is out of council, he will be able to lend a hand to those running sport in Aurora.

Mayor Bob Saunders of Toronto was the champion paddler of Canada and secured many years ago and also coached canoeing teams as well as playing rugby for T.R.A.A. His election to office by a large majority was warmly welcomed by the sporting fraternity. If anybody can eliminate that "Hogtown" impression now carried by Toronto it will be Mr. Saunders.

Community Association

(Jan. 4)
A meeting was held in the public school on Tuesday evening, Jan.
2, for the purpose of discussing the possibilities of improvements in the village. Considering the severe weather there were quite a large number present, some had walked two miles through deep snow, keen winds and zero temperature. H. W. Tomer was appointed chairman for the evening and H.
Draper, secretary "pro tem".
After a brief talk by the chairman the meeting was opened for discussion. Rev. M. S. Benn gave a very optimistic talk on what can be accomplished by unity of effort and lots of "push".
The chief topic discussed was ways and means of making the village streets passable for traffic after such snow storms as have been experienced of late. Street lighting was also discussed.
Most of those present took part in the discussion and by an unanimous vote it was resolved that a community association be formed immediately and action taken.
Rev. M. S. Benn was appointed president. H. W. Tomer, sec-treas.
and a committee of five, W. Bellar,
J. W. Bate, H. Draper, M. Lepard
and E. Lundy, was also appointed.
A committee meeting was called for Jan. 9 and a general meeting will be called as soon as possible after the committee has met.
A large majority of those present enrolled as members of the association.

Remember!

HERE'S NEWS to save you heat fuel and worry! Everyone who runs a furnace owes it to himself to learn about CHIMNEY SWEEP. The marvelous chemical sweep-destroyer which you simply throw into the firebox of furnace or stove. Chimney Sweep is the modern, scientific way to clean all types of furnaces, fireplaces, chimneys, flues. At this critical time when every householder is doing his best to save fuel it is wise to remember that dirty pipes and flues are serious heat-robbing. Best of all a big thirty-three pound can of Chimney Sweep costs only 1.69. Most dealers in Ontario carry Chimney Sweep, and the few not yet stocking it can order from Lang Brothers, 69 Sherbourne Street, Toronto.

YOU ARE LIKELY to hear a good deal about the new book, CAPTAIN FROM CASTLE, being published this month. Written by Samuel Shellabarger and available through McClelland and Stewart, Toronto, this book was a Literary Guild selection for January. "Get ready for the finest adventure story since Anthony Adverse," Dr. Shellabarger has the Dumas touch," says the Cosmopolitan reviewer. And here's a reader's report: "I think that any one who was once absorbed by the Count of Monte Cristo or The Three Musketeers will have the time of his life with this story."

CHECKMATE IN THE NORTH, by Lieut. Cdr. W. I. G. Carr, R.C.N.V.R. (Illustrated, $3.50). A really exciting book of every Canadian is this dramatic account of Hitler's plan to invade Canada and the United States and how it was foiled by the building of Canada's northern defenses, including the famous Goose Bay Airbase in Labrador. This book reveals a great deal of inside information about what has been going on right here in Canada against Nazism, and many thrilling tales of heroism by Canadians on the home front. Macmillan.

CHARMING... GEMEY perfume by Richard Hudnut is as subtle as smouldering jewels in the twilight, highlighting the romance of your personality with a breath of hidden excitement. And there's a reason for Gemey's exquisite delicacy. Scientists have worked for a long time to perfect a fragrance which would remain sweet indefinitely, never cheapen itself by going rancid by long exposure to the air. The fine oils in Gemey perfumes have been so treated that they cannot develop the treacherous "stale perfume" odour which is the price-mark of careless shopping.

"THIS COARSE, GRANULAR MASH WILL GIVE YOU HIGHER EGG PRODUCTION AT LOWER COST"

Your hens will produce more eggs at a lower feed cost per egg if you can get them to eat EXTRA feed. They WILL, eat extra feed when you give them Pioneer Big Laying Mash. Practical tests have proven that hens will eat far more Pioneer Big Laying Mash when offered the choice between this coarse granular feed and a finely ground feed. They have also proven that feed costs per dozen eggs go down as egg production goes up.

PIONEER BIG 3 LAYING MASH GIVES YOU THESE ADVANTAGES:

1. MORE PALATABLE
2. GREATER FEED CONSUMPTION
3. INCREASED EGG PRODUCTION

Hi-Lights FROM N.H.S. BY D.W.

The feeling of the students towards starting school again was clearly shown or heard in the loud groans and exclamations that greeted Mr. Lockhart's opening remark of "I see here everyone is glad to be back," to assembly Jan. 3.
The out-of-town students did not reach the school Wednesday unless they skied in as two or three did. Miss Baitson, visiting at Lindsay, was unable to return until Wednesday afternoon because of the snow-blocked roads.
Shirley Geer and Bill Ewing, both of third form, underwent operations for appendicitis.
Bill Card, third form, has returned to school after an absence because of a broken leg received in a rugby game with Pickering College last fall.
The New Year's dance, or as Mr. Lockhart says, "the last dance before settling down to work," was held last Friday. Max Boag and his orchestra provided the music and dancing started at 8.30 p.m. A luncheon of coffee and cake was served at 10.30 p.m. There was a fair attendance and dancing ended at midnight.
The Christmas report cards were given out Friday after a long period of suspense.
The senior hockey teams had a try-out Tuesday afternoon at the Newmarket Memorial arena. Junior and senior basketball teams have been formed and arrangements have been made to play Richmond Hill, Aurora, St. Andrew's and Pickering.

MOUNT PLEASANT

The Mount Pleasant people have been having a very quiet time the last week, no school, no mail, no church service, owing to the storm on the New Year.
Mrs. Everett Yorkie who has been suffering with neuritis is improving.
Master Roger Davidson, Toronto, spent the Christmas holidays with his cousin, Master Geo. Davidson.
Everybody is glad to see the snow-pow which was in Toronto for pairs when the storm came, at work again.

A new trustee has been elected for the Baseline school, George Metcalfe, who takes the place made vacant when Bruce Fairbairn resigned.
Mrs. V. Chapman is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Acil Chapman.

More Agriculture Taught In Schools, Forum Urges

At the meeting of the Newmarket East farm radio forum Monday night, it was decided that high schools should be designed for both rural and town youths and that courses in agriculture should be taught. The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. Wilmot, 11 attended. The subject was, "What the schools should do in educating rural young people."
The findings of the forum as submitted by Mrs. Ivan Eves were: "Smaller families in rural districts today cause many schools to have 15 or 18 pupils while in former days the same schools had an attendance of 50 or 60. Transportation nowadays makes it possible for pupils to go greater distances to school, making union schools more practical. People see the need now for more education in order to make a living."
"Books and dental services are now provided, giving every child the same chance. New, better and more healthful methods of lighting, heating and ventilation and lavatory facilities show up the facilities of the past as crude and injurious to the health of the students."
"The new curriculum tries to do away with formal classes and promotes individuality and co-operation by group work, projects and other activities related to community life. Natural science, social studies, crafts, health and physical training have been introduced. Music has been made compulsory. Current events are studied. It was felt that more emphasis should be placed on the teaching of home economics in rural districts and the study of agriculture should be compulsory."
"It was felt there was no need for a rural high school, i.e., a high school adapted only to the needs of rural youth, but the high school, wherever located, should be designed for both the rural and town child, with courses in agriculture taught. In this way the town and rural youth would mingle and learn to cope with one another, inferiority complexes would be avoided and there would be less discrimination between the rural and town child. There would be no 'hick' class. It was strongly felt there is a decided lack of high schools even in towns."
A recreation period was enjoyed after which a luncheon was served.

NEW TROUBLE
Man (to small son of one of his workmen who has met with an accident): "When will da be fit for work again?"
Boy: "Can't say for certain, but it will be a long time."
Man: "What makes you think that?"
Boy: "Cause compensation's set in."

tripping penalty moments later. The line-keepers had hit handball when a third addition hit the penalty deck. Friend Oliniski did the honors by spilling Billy Taylor and with that Newmarket had the one-man advantage, and advantage they did take.
Jack Life, who had been more or less in the background up till then, was on the end of a well-executed passing attack with Dutch Wheeler and Ben Guidolin to knock in the first army marker. Wheeler had carried the rubber to centre, passed to Guidolin on the left boards, who side-stepped two navy men and then, drawing the lone defenseman out of position, dunked a pass to Life, who drilled the cake past Wilson.
There was no further scoring in the period but just prior to the bell ending the session, Guidolin and Davey went off for unnecessary roughing. The opening stanza took over an hour to complete.
The second period was tamer than its predecessor, with only four penalties being handed out, but two of these were very costly to the navy. It was while Oliniski and Dillon were in the hot box that Jack Life went on a rampage to net his second and this goal was the evening, practically scuttling the good ship York singlehanded.
Billy Taylor was in on both scores, flipping two beauties to Life and this under-rated puckster blasted both passes into the navy net within the short space of 20 seconds. Previous to this scoring outburst, McComb and Guidolin had punctured the netting to put the blue and gold ahead 3-2 and with Life finding the target with two rapid conversions, the game took on the aspect of becoming a rout.
McComb's goal was a brilliant attempt, Doc Avison drawing the assist. Avison circled the net and while skating away from the goal, he backhanded the rubber into the left corner where McComb grabbed the pass and with an angle shot, found the top right hand corner of the goal.
This was followed minutes later by a goal by Guidolin, the principal Taylor being used as a threat. Guidolin grabbed a pass from Taylor at the blue line, circled the goal, shifting and weaving past the whole sailor outfit, and then finally stopping suddenly on the front door-step of the goal and blasting the rubber past Wilson, whose vision was partly screened by the presence of Taylor and Oliniski doing the rumba in front of the nets. Two more penalties were meted out in this period to Doyle and Oliniski for mixing it up too realistically.
The sailors opened up a terrific attack to start the final, hemming in the No. 23 sextet for minutes straight, but the stubborn army defense refused to budge under the sustained attack. As the minutes faded away, the navy ganging pattered out but they still had enough drive and steam to tally a third and final count, this coming with less than four minutes remaining. Davey was the marksman, scoring on a pass from Bobby Schnurr. This was duplicated by Billy Taylor moments later with Guidolin and Life getting the assists. That was all for either team and the game ended with the blue and gold out in front 6-3 and assured of a first-place tie.
Two penalties were dished out in the period, one to Jamison for boarding and the other to Barker for tripping, making it a grand total of 18 for the evening's proceedings. The contest was fast and furious—and slightly rough, but definitely crowd-pleasing. The series now stands one apiece—navy having taken the first, 5-4, and Newmarket the second. For the blue and gold, Jamison, Wheeler, Taylor, Life, McComb and Guidolin led the way. With Bing Caswell, Curry, Love, Schnurr, Dillon and Davey were the navy plug-plugs. Ross Wilson, the talkative St. Kitts goal-tender, turned in a cool and creditable performance, having no chance whatsoever on the six shots that found the mark.
Col. Young and Mayor Dales opened the game by facing off the puck. The game then went under the direction of Sgt. Jack Ferries played melodies before the contest and during the intermissions.

SPORTS... WHERE WE SIT BY DEL. GIBNEY

Something of a record was shattered at Newmarket Memorial arena on Monday evening when the jinx that has been bounding the junior clubs for the past eight years was lifted when the boys came through with a win on home ice.
The year of 1938, when J. L. Spilletta had the juvenile club, was the last win for a Newmarket club and still later for a junior club on home grounds.
The win might be credited to a stronger aggregation of 'teen age kids or to the ability of coaching. Anyway, the junior team is on the march once again.
Hockey fans who were on hand Monday evening were treated to some fine hockey and saw Capitals capitalize with a 6-1 decision over the strong Markham Greenshirts.
From the start to the finish these kids turned on the steam, putting everything they had into the game, handing out stiff body checks and plenty of passing plays which improved as the game progressed.
The first star goes to O'Brien, the lanky boy on the Newmarket defence who played good offensively and also handed out his weight to any opposing player who came his way. The second to Purdon, completing the rearguard for the Capitals, also a big kid who holds up his end, taking care of all who might outwit his teammates. These two boys make an air tight defence and are good skaters and stick-handlers.
The third goes to Bob "Lanky" Smith who played good hockey all evening, accounting for three of his teammates' goals and back checked like a fiend.
Much credit is due to Referee Bob Peters, who handled the game. He was always in control and kept the game on the move with very few arguments.
Coach Stan Smith and Manager Jim Walker are sure that if the boys play the same calibre of hockey as the last performance they should be in there fighting when the play-offs roll around.
It is your arena and your team. Help them along. Support the kids and they will fight the last dog for a win.
The next game is with Richmond Hill league teams Monday next and the local kids are out for revenge so an excellent game is carded for 8.30 at the arena.
An interscholastic hockey league has been formed in North York with Richmond Hill, Aurora and St. Andrew's 2nds forming the southern group and Newmarket high school, Pickering College 2nds and one more school for the northern section. These games will be played in the afternoons and winners from each group will meet in the finals to decide which is the better group for 1945. Mr. Dick's Aces and Blackstock's Bulldozers have been practising at the local arena for the past week and by reports some good hockey is in the wind for the afternoons. This is where the boys learn the game and also good sportsmanship. Best of luck for the league and might we suggest a few even-ting games for those hockey fans who like to see the kindergartens of hockey at work.
Thursday evening at the local ice palace there was the largest crowd the steel girders and cement pillars have had to support in a league game since 1933, when 23 B.T.C. defeated the navy 6-3 and tied the sailors for top position in the standing.
The navy have a strong club and take more advantage of the difference in zones for passing than No. 23 aggregation. The army boys are inclined to be a little selfish with the puck. It might be that they are playing with strange lads and it is our guess that Manager McDonald will see that his club is a fine working machine before the season ends.
Life was the hero of the game.

MEETS SCHOOL-CHUMS IN NEWFOUNDLAND

"I wish to thank you and the other members of the Newmarket Veterans' Association for the carton of cigarettes that was sent me," writes Sick Berth Attendant Robert Brooks from Newfoundland to the Newmarket Veterans' Association Comfort Fund. "On our arrival here, we (four other S.B.A.'s from York) thought we had arrived at a money-saving place in regards to cigarettes, 10 cents for a package at overseas posts. But the supply soon exceeded the demand. Throughout the last month we have had to be contented with American cigarettes. Thus you may easily guess the pleasure which was mine when I received your parcel."
"I met Bruce Gould last week at the R.C.N. barracks and, as you may guess, time seemed to slip away as we talked of old times at Newmarket high and past events of the town's life. One of the bright spots was meeting Norman Burling shortly after arriving here. I met him at the Y.M.C.A. the third night."
"PO Bob Benville and Andy Mitchell are two more Newmarketers stationed over here. I think that there is nothing so helpful to morale and one's happiness of mind as to meet friends and fellow townfolk when home is separated from us by some 2,000 miles or so."
"Winter is just arriving here and the thought of it is rather exciting. From all accounts, I should see quite a little snow, mixed for the sake of variety, with rain, fog and hail."
"Would you please convey to the Newmarket Veterans' Association Comfort Fund my most sincere thanks for the lovely box sent me for Christmas," writes Cpl. J. E. Morrow from overseas. "Everything in the parcel was in good condition when it arrived and at present I am enjoying its contents. It gives me a great deal of pleasure to receive parcels over here and especially to be remembered at this particular time of year by many kind and thoughtful friends at home."

Unit Befriended By People Of Vimy Ridge

"Just a few lines to wish all a very Merry Christmas and thank you for your jolly Christmas parcel," Cpl. K. Mitchell writes to the Newmarket Veterans' Association. "At this time of year I think we all miss home just a little more than at any other time and it sure is a great feeling to know that all our friends at home are thinking of us, even if we are a few thousand miles away."
"Since arriving in Europe, I have had the pleasure of visiting a few of the spots that you fellows were at in the last war and you certainly left the people with a very warm spot in their hearts for Canadians. Our unit was stationed about six miles from Vimy Ridge for a while and the people there couldn't do enough for us."
"As yet I haven't met any of the lads from home over here but I have been receiving the town paper quite regularly and find it quite interesting to read the letters you receive from the boys in different corners of the war. I have met Bud Lauria a couple of times and hear from him fairly regularly. At present he is a captain in charge of a recovery section, doing tank recovery work with the fourth division."
"Thanks again for your swell parcel and your kind gifts of cigarettes throughout the last year."
"One night I take pleasure in sending my thanks to you and the members of the Veterans' Association, this time for the lovely parcel I received for Christmas," S.P.O. Wm. B. Johnston writes in a letter rapping home two goals in 30 seconds to give his team the lead 1-0. It was one of those goals that the most brilliant passing plays made when Taylor and Life clicked and proven to everyone that it is team work that counts when goals are the pay-off. Late, incidentally, collected four scoring points for himself and Taylor was in there for three points setting up a few good plays for his wingmen.
Guidolin, who trails the left board, is an effective player and he and Taylor are the boys to break fast when the opportunity arises. The game was anything but good hockey. It was one of those hard-fought and close-checking affairs that made tempers flare and provided many arguments.
No. one star will go to Jack Life, who was the big noise of the game, collecting four points and being responsible for the turning point in the night's performance. No. two might well go to Taylor, who set up fine scoring plays which were rewarded by three of the six goals scored.
Davey of the navy is good for one of those stars too, getting two points out of the three goals and leading his club in a fine offensive game.
Honorable mention might go to Guidolin, who played good offensive hockey all evening and set up two plays which were responsible for goals.
No. 23 is a fast skating club, carry plenty of weight in their punches and when they meet the Toronto army tonight, should be playing to a capacity crowd. It is your arena. Be on hand and cheer the boys to victory.
In the inter-services hockey league to Jan. 4 scoring statistics show No. 23 hockey club has highest average of goal-getters with six out of the first ten players leading in points.
Floyd Currie of H.M.C.S. York leads the list.
To date Margaret VanZant leads all bowlers in the Indies Monday evening five pin league with 165.7 average for 21 games with Rose Lee 162.7, Flossie Campbell 153.7, Deane Mulhearn 155.4 and Phyllis Osborne 152.5. Three of these top notchers are members of the town softball league and developed the art of underhand tossing to better the rolling of bowls.
Rose Lee's team of Claire Pollock, Kathleen Ruddock, Mona Dean, Laura Gilkes and Alice Gibson is leading the group. These girls, after a poor start and high handicaps, are coming into their own and rolling some fine scores.

to Alex. McIntosh and the Veterans' Association.

"I was very fortunate this year and was able to spend Christmas with my wife and folks in Toronto. It was a very merry Christmas and I enjoyed every minute of it. It was the first Christmas I've been home in the past four years so you can imagine just how glad I was when I arrived home."
"Once again a note of thanks for cigarettes which have just arrived. Our appreciation of Canadian cigarettes has increased tremendously the past few weeks since our introduction to Dutch tobacco has not left a favorable impression," writes Lieut. K. Mawson to the Veterans' Association.
"To date winter in Europe for Canadians in this theatre brings back memories of English weather—grey skies, dampness, cool breezes. But the Netherlands seem to have drawn more than their share of winter. In our weaker moments we used to talk about giving Canada back to the Indians but over here it is a question of giving Holland back to the sea."
"We are still in high spirits, however, and we trust the folks back home are too. It shouldn't be long now. Let us hope not, at all events."
"I just received your swell carton of smokes and they came in the nick of time," writes Cpl. A. G. Townsley to the Veterans. "I was down to my last Canadian cigarette and we have a preference for them. In France smokes are at a premium and we really appreciate what you fellows from the last war are doing for us."
"I hope the old town is still giving hockey fans a treat. Give my regards to all the boys and if you meet Sam Smith tell him my cousin is still alive and kicking. Thanks again, and remember me to my old boss, Bert Budd."
Cards of thanks were also received from Sgt. J. P. Arlitt, Spr. W. D. Lyall, Sgt. Grant Crowder, Pte. N. L. Pack, Cpl. Alfred Ainsworth and Capt. Jack Patterson.

WHAT AN IMAGINATION
The teacher had recited The Landing of the Pilgrims. Then she requested each pupil to draw from his or her imagination a picture of Plymouth Rock.
Most of them went to work at once, but one little fellow hesitated, and at length raised his hand.
"Well, Willie, what is it?" asked the teacher.
"Please, ma'am, do you want us to draw a hen or a rooster?"

THIS SEASON START earlier!

More and more, as we study egg and poultry markets, we are convinced that the poultry raiser who starts his "main crop" of chicks in January or February is the one who clears the most money.

January and February hatched pullets come into production just as egg prices begin to go up. They are in full lay right through the highest prices of the year. They reach full production of A-large size just when the premium for A-large spreads into real money.

A-large brought 10c to 11c a dozen above A-pullets for weeks on end last fall and for a limited period up to 17c. There's an item that in itself alone makes a big difference in your whole year's net returns—and whether you are selling A-large or A-pullet through the fall depends very largely on whether you start your chicks early enough to reach the A-large stage at the right time.

If you have the equipment to do the job, you can give winter chicks just as good a start as spring chicks—probably better, for you can spare more time for them in January or February than you can when the spring work is pressing.

WANTED—FALL CHICKS FOR EXPORT

The 1945 egg market looks "solid", too. Consumption here in Canada continues very heavy. Already the British egg order for 1945 calls for the same volume of eggs as in 1944. That ought to help make 1945 a good, profitable poultry year—without spectacular high prices, perhaps, but without serious slumps, either.

The Dominion Special Products Board plans to buy 15 million dozen (500,000 cases) for export shipment during the fall—and wants A-large and A-medium only. To provide that many eggs IN TIME in A-large and A-medium sizes means starting a lot of chicks EARLIER—not necessarily more chicks, but earlier chicks.

It's good business to start chicks early, in any year. This year, it looks like EXTRA good business!

Drop us a postcard with your name and address and we'll promptly send you full information on Bray Chicks.
